

MICRA: Preserving Healthcare Access and Affordability

California’s Medical Injury Compensation Reform Act (MICRA) ensures injured patients receive fair compensation while preserving patients’ access to healthcare by keeping doctors, nurses and healthcare providers in practice and hospitals and clinics open. MICRA has saved healthcare consumers billions of dollars.

Protecting Access to Healthcare Services

- Prior to MICRA, California was facing a crisis. Out-of-control medical liability costs were forcing community clinics, health centers, doctors, OBGYNs and other healthcare providers out of practice.
- MICRA has helped stabilize liability costs. In particular, MICRA protects specialty and high-risk services, including women’s healthcare, community clinics, health centers and rural providers that can least afford skyrocketing insurance costs.
- States without medical liability reform suffer from shortages of providers leading to the closing of hospitals, clinics and trauma centers and leaving patients with no doctors in their immediate vicinity.

Protecting Against Rising Healthcare Costs

- MICRA has saved healthcare consumers billions of dollars by protecting against runaway damage awards.
- Increasing the amount of non-economic damages allowed under MICRA from $250,000 to $500,000 would raise healthcare costs in California by at least $9.5 billion annually, according to the State’s former non-partisan Legislative Analyst. That translates into approximately $1,000 annually for a family of four.

Protecting Patients’ Rights and Preserving Access to the Courts

- MICRA preserves patients’ access to fair compensation when they have justifiable claims, including:

UNLIMITED	Economic damages for all past and future medical costs.
UNLIMITED	Economic damages for lost wages, lifetime earning potential and for any other conceivable economic losses.
UNLIMITED	Punitive damages, which seek to punish a defendant.
ADDITIONAL	Up to $250,000 available for non-economic damages, sometimes called pain and suffering awards.

- Under MICRA, the average size of medical liability awards in California has increased faster than the rate of inflation.
- MICRA limits attorneys’ fees so patients, not lawyers, receive more from awards.

Supported by a Large and Diverse Coalition of Patient Advocates and Healthcare Providers

- CAPP is made up of healthcare professionals and organizations that represent community clinics, health centers, emergency providers, EMTs, fire fighters, police officers, patient advocates, physicians, nurses, dentists, hospitals, health facilities, and women’s health advocates, among others.
